

Quality Programs Powered by STEAM*

Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts and Math*

Technology
Professional Development that Works!

Day: Tuesday, November 16, 2010
Session: 2:00 – 3:15 pm
Room: Kiva West – Technology Classroom

Presenters:

Neil Manzenberger – azneil1@gmail.com

Technology Integration Specialist
Yavapai County Education Service Agency

Angie Hillman - ahillman@cocsd.k12.az.us

Teacher
Cottonwood-Oak Creek Elementary District

Session Description:

This session will introduce you to the wonderful world of Project Based Learning. You will explore Project Based Learning. Learn how to incorporate Web 2.0 tools to create exciting student centered lessons that incorporate 21st Century Learning Skills.

Presenter Information:

Neil Manzenberger is a Technology Integration Specialist for the Statewide Instructional Technology grant and works for the Yavapai County Education Service Agency. Neil was a classroom teacher in Indiana and Arizona for over 34 years where he taught music and technology in grades K-12. He was also an adjunct professor at Indiana University's Columbus campus, where he taught for nine years. Neil is a Senior Instructor with Intel Teach program.

Angie Hillman has been teaching for 16 years with the last 7 of those at Cottonwood Middle School as the Language Arts Resource Specialist. Her mission is to instill leadership and good citizenship skills in her students. Ms. Hillman is a Master Teacher for Intel, a current Fellow at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, and was named an Inspiring Educator by Intel last year.

Session Materials

PowerPoint

Evaluation of Claim

Quality of Evidence

Strength of Evidence

tinyurl.com/azmega

2010 MEGA Conference

